1.5. Reasons for the offer

The reason for the offer is that the Company is in the scale-up phase with a need for liquidity to establish itself in the market. It is further in line with the Company's strategy towards 2030 for the Company to be "a public company for the people". It is therefore part of the Company's vision and goal to attract a high number of investors, without setting any further requirements for them to invest in the Company.

Over time, the Company has established a favorable position in its areas of focus concerning hydrogen, local energy, and analysis. The Company is now in the process of realizing specific projects where the Company must provide capital to be able to sit as owner and co-owner of hydrogen plants and local energy plants. Since June 2020 the green market has been booming and many companies are positioning themselves towards the hydrogen segment and other areas within renewable energy. Greenstat will need sufficient capital to secure positions in our core areas.

Use of proceeds

The proceeds will be used to secure capital for further growth in the Company's 100% owned subsidiaries. The subsidiaries are as follows:

- Greenstat Hydrogen AS
- Greenstat Energy AS
- Greenstation AS
- Greenstat Asia AS / Greenstat Hydrogen India PVT Ltd (65% ownership)
- Greensight AS

Furthermore, the proceeds will be used to follow up investments to keep ownership positions in the following companies related to hydrogen production:

- Glomfjord Hydrogen AS
- Meraker Hydrogen AS
- Viken Hydrogen AS

Other than this, the proceeds will be used in the following manner:

- Initial investments in hydrogen projects/companies to secure new positions related to hydrogen production,
- Follow up investments in companies related to developing hydrogen solutions for the maritime industry:
 - H2 Marine AS,
 - Green Yacht AS.
- Investments in Industrial wind projects and companies,
- Investments in solar energy projects,
- Investments in green energy stations (Greenstation) at strategic locations in Norway and abroad,
- Investments related to the development of a hydrogen project portfolio in India and other Asian countries,
- General corporate purposes,

- Strengthening the organization and securing talents,
- Marketing and branding purposes.

In addition, it is decided that Greenstat can make strategic investments in companies within green energy, where it is seen that this can add value beyond a pure financial investment. This is for the time being handled by the top Company, but setting up fully owned investment companies within dedicated focus areas will be considered going forward.

Greenstat will make strategic investments in three categories.

1. Daughter companies – Such as the segment specific subsidiaries
2. Hydrogen related companies that will contribute to Greenstat's overall ambition in the hydrogen space. These will be in the category of Active Ownership.
3. Passive investments – These investments will typically be in market making categories within green energy consumption. Other investments may end up in this category if they make sense from a strategic point of view and are technology neutral.

All investment decisions are made by the board of directors of Greenstat ASA. Recommendations for the board are made by the management team in Greenstat ASA.

1.5.1. Estimated net amount of the proceeds and its intended use

1.5.2. Proceeds alignment with business strategy

Greenstat participates and invests in companies that contribute to its purpose.

All the proceeds listed above are connected and aligned with the overall business strategy and the strategic objectives.

2. Risk factors

2.1. Risks related to the nature of the securities/issue

As set forth in provision 4.1.2 of this securities note, there are several risks related to the Company's mandate to perform changes in the issue and changes related to each application. These will be presented in section 2.1.1. to 2.1.3 below.

2.1.1 Overbooking

If the sum of orders received exceeds the maximum issue proceeds (overbooking), the Company will as a starting point seek to prioritize allocation at the sole discretion of the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors will focus on criteria such as (but not limited to) current ownership in the Company, timeliness of the application, relative order size, sector knowledge, perceived investor quality and investment horizon, but can essentially freely choose which applicants that will be prioritized. The provisions means that the applicant cannot expect to receive the shares they wish to purchase before they have received explicit confirmation of this.

As the Company has experienced overbookings in previous emissions, the probability for to occur again, resulting in one or more applicants not receiving any shares or the amount applied for, is set to high.

2.1.2 Changes related to the issue

The Company reserves the right to (i) cancel or reduce any order without special reason, (ii) change the order period, (iii) withdraw the invitation to order shares and (iv) not to carry out the issue at its sole discretion and without further justification. The provisions means that the Company has a very broad mandate to make adjustments in the issue, and that this may happen without any further notice. The clauses are provided in the event that unforeseen circumstances should occur that may change the Company's financial position or operations to a significant degree, or it is necessary to extend the order period.

Still, the Company has no imminent or probable scenarios that indicate that these reservations will be implemented. The Company has also not used any of the provisions set forth in previous emissions. The Company therefore assesses the risk of these provisions to be used as low.

2.1.3 Changes in each application

The Company may, at their sole discretion, set a maximum allocation to any applicant as well as reject or reduce any application in whole or in part. The final allocation of offer shares will be resolved by the Board of Directors. Allotment of offer shares for a lower amount than applied for does not affect the applicant's obligation to subscribe and pay for the offer shares allotted. The provisions mean that the applicant cannot expect to receive the shares they wish to purchase before they have received explicit confirmation of this.

The Company has performed such actions earlier tied to overbookings in previous emissions, resulting in one or more applicants not receiving any shares or the amount applied for. The Company has also rejected applicants due to the small number of shares applied to regardless of overbooking. Due to the fact that the current issue involves a minimum order of 1333 shares, rejection of applicants due to a small amount of applied shares will not occur in this emission. Based on the previous experience and provisions for the current emission, the probability for this risk is set to medium.

2.2. Risks related to the underlying shares

The Company may in the future decide to offer additional shares or other securities in order to finance new capital-intensive projects, in connection with unanticipated liabilities or expenses or for any other purposes, including additional shares tied to the Company's share option program. The issue of additional shares or other securities in order to finance new capital-intensive projects is particularly relevant for the Company, considering the early stage it is in and also the competitive nature of its business. The Company might start various developments in the future which require further funding and can result in dilution of existing shares. There is no assurance that the Company will not decide to conduct further offerings of securities in the future. Certain existing shareholders may not have the ability to purchase additional equity securities. If the Company raises additional funds by issuing additional equity securities, the holdings and voting interests of existing shareholders could be diluted.

There is a medium probability for the Company to issue additional shares in the future. As the Company wishes to include both professional and nonprofessional investors in the current issue, it is likely that not everyone will have the opportunity to participate in new share issues. The probability for one or more investors experiencing dilution in the future is therefore set to medium.

2.3. Risks related to the offer to the public and/or admission of the securities to trading on a regulated market

The Shares have not been traded on a regulated public marketplace, and there can be no assurances that an active trading market for the Shares will develop or be sustained, or that the Shares could be resold at or above the offer price. The market value of the Shares could be substantially affected by the extent of the Company's ability to be profitable in the market. The liquidity of the Shares will be lower than what could be expected on a regulated market.

As the Company has a clear ambition of being listed on EuroNext Growth or The Norwegian Stock Exchange within Q4 of 2021, it is unlikely that the Company will not be listed in the near future. Still, considering that the market for most of the Company's and its subsidiaries main activities are new and highly innovative, there is a more than insignificant chance that the market price will degrade if the interest for such innovation is not representative.

Based on the current market for the activities and ambitions of the group, the risk level for the shares not being easily tradable and holding its current value is set to medium.

- a) The share capital shall in total be increased by a minimum of NOK 100,000 and a maximum of NOK 23,286,453 by issuing a minimum of 100,000 new shares and a maximum of 23,286,453 new shares, at a subscription price in the interval between NOK 5.5 and NOK 15.00.

The decision of the general meeting shall be notified to the Register of Business Enterprises without delay. The board cannot make use of the power of attorney until it has been registered.

3.1.7. The expected issue date of the securities.

The 30h of August 2021.

3.1.8. Restrictions on the transferability of the securities

There are no restrictions on the transferability of the securities.

Still, the shares of Greenstat AS are not listed on any marketplace. It can therefore be challenging to get the shares traded in the secondary market, as the seller must find the buyer himself. Still, the Company has a goal to be enlisted on the Euronext Growth stock exchange within 2021.

3.1.9. Tax legislation

Set out below is a summary of certain Norwegian tax matters related to an investment in the Company. The summary regarding Norwegian taxation is based on the laws in force in Norway as at the date of this Securities Note, which may be subject to any changes in law occurring after such date. Such changes could possibly be made on a retrospective basis. The following summary does not purport to be a comprehensive description of all the tax considerations that may be relevant to a decision to purchase, own or dispose of the shares in the Company. Shareholders who wish to clarify their own tax situation should consult with and rely upon their own tax advisors.

Shareholders resident in jurisdictions other than Norway and shareholders who cease to be resident in Norway for tax purposes (due to domestic tax law or tax treaty) should specifically consult with and rely upon their own tax advisors with respect to the tax position in their country of residence and the tax consequences related to ceasing to be resident in Norway for tax purposes.

Please note that for the purpose of the summary below, a reference to a Norwegian or non-Norwegian shareholder refers to the tax residency rather than the nationality of the shareholder.

The tax legislation in the Company's jurisdiction of incorporation and the tax legislation in the jurisdictions in which the shareholders are resident for tax purposes may have an impact on the income received from the shares.

Taxation of dividends

Norwegian Personal Shareholders Dividends distributed by the Company to shareholders who are individuals resident in Norway for tax purposes ("Norwegian Personal Shareholders") are taxable in Norway for such shareholders currently at an effective tax rate of 31.68% to the extent the dividend exceeds a tax-free allowance; i.e. dividends received, less the tax free allowance, shall be multiplied by 1.44 which are then included as ordinary income taxable at a flat rate of 22%, increasing the effective tax rate on dividends received by Norwegian Personal Shareholders to 31.68%.

The allowance is calculated on a share-by-share basis. The allowance for each share is equal to the cost price of the share multiplied by a determined risk-free interest rate based on the effective rate of interest on treasury bills (Nw.: statskasseveksler) with three months maturity, plus 0.5 percentage points, after tax. The allowance is calculated for each calendar year and is allocated solely to Norwegian Personal Shareholders holding shares at the expiration of the relevant calendar year. Norwegian Personal Shareholders who transfer shares will thus not be entitled to deduct any calculated allowance related to the year of transfer. Any part of the calculated allowance one year exceeding the dividend distributed on the share ("excess allowance") may be carried forward and set off against future dividends received on, or gains upon realization, of the same share.

Norwegian Corporate Shareholders Dividends distributed by the Company to shareholders who are public limited liability companies (and certain similar entities) resident in Norway for tax purposes ("Norwegian Corporate Shareholders"), are effectively taxed at a rate of currently 0.66% (3% of dividend income from such shares is included in the calculation of ordinary income for Norwegian Corporate Shareholders, and ordinary income is subject to tax at a flat rate of currently 22%). For Norwegian Corporate Shareholders that are considered to be "Financial Institutions" under the Norwegian financial activity tax (banks, holding companies), the effective rate of taxation for dividends is 0.75%. Non-Norwegian Personal Shareholders Dividends distributed by the Company to shareholders who are individuals not resident in Norway for tax purposes (“Non-Norwegian Personal Shareholders”), are as a general rule subject to withholding tax at a rate of 25%. The withholding tax rate of 25% is normally reduced through tax treaties between Norway and the country in which the shareholder is resident.

The withholding obligation lies with the Company distributing the dividends and the Company assumes this obligation. Non-Norwegian Personal Shareholders resident within the EEA for tax purposes may apply individually to Norwegian tax authorities for a refund of an amount corresponding to the calculated tax-free allowance on each individual share - please refer to Section “Taxation of dividends – Non-Norwegian Personal Shareholders” above. However, the deduction for the tax-free allowance does not apply in the event that the withholding tax rate, pursuant to an applicable tax treaty leads to a lower taxation of the dividends than the withholding tax rate of 25% less the tax-free allowance. If a Non-Norwegian Personal Shareholder is carrying on business activities in Norway and the shares are effectively connected with such activities, the shareholder will be subject to the same taxation of dividends as a Norwegian Personal Shareholder, as described above. Non-Norwegian Personal Shareholders who have suffered a higher withholding tax than set out in an applicable tax treaty may apply to the Norwegian tax authorities for a refund of the excess withholding tax deducted.

All Non-Norwegian Personal Shareholders must document their entitlement to a reduced withholding tax rate by obtaining a certificate of residence issued by the tax authorities in the shareholder’s country of residence, confirming that the shareholder is resident in that state. The documentation must be provided to either the nominee or the account operator (VPS). Non-Norwegian Personal Shareholders should consult their own advisers regarding the availability of treaty benefits in respect of dividend payments, including the possibility of effectively claiming a refund of withholding tax.

Non-Norwegian Corporate Shareholders Dividends distributed by the Company to shareholders who are public limited liability companies (and certain other entities) domiciled outside of Norway for tax purposes (“Non-Norwegian Corporate Shareholders”), are as a general rule subject to withholding tax at a rate of 25%. The withholding tax rate of 25% is normally reduced through tax treaties between Norway and the country in which the shareholder is resident. Dividends distributed to Non-Norwegian Corporate Shareholders domiciled within the EEA for tax purposes are exempt from Norwegian withholding tax provided that the shareholder is the beneficial owner of the shares and that the shareholder is genuinely established and performs genuine economic business activities within the relevant EEA jurisdiction.

Non-Norwegian Corporate Shareholders who have suffered a higher withholding tax than set out in an applicable tax treaty may apply to the Norwegian tax authorities for a refund of the excess withholding tax deducted. The same will apply to Non-Norwegian Corporate Shareholders who have suffered withholding tax although qualifying for the Norwegian participation exemption.

All Non-Norwegian Corporate Shareholders must document their entitlement to a reduced withholding tax rate by either (i) presenting an approved withholding tax refund application or (ii) present an approval from the Norwegian tax authorities confirming that the recipient is entitled to a reduced withholding tax rate. In addition, a certificate of residence issued by the tax authorities in the shareholder's country of residence, confirming that the shareholder is resident in that state, must be obtained. Such documentation must be provided to either the nominee or the account operator (VPS). The withholding obligation in respect of dividends distributed to Non-Norwegian Corporate Shareholders and on nominee registered shares lies with the Company distributing the dividends and the Company assumes this obligation. Non-Norwegian Corporate Shareholders should consult their own advisers regarding the availability of treaty benefits in respect of dividend payments, including the possibility of effectively claiming a refund of withholding tax.

Taxation of capital gains on realization of shares

Norwegian Personal Shareholders Sale, redemption or other disposal of shares is considered a realization for Norwegian tax purposes. A capital gain or loss generated by a Norwegian Personal Shareholder through a disposal of shares is taxable or tax deductible in Norway. The effective tax rate on gain or loss related to shares realized by Norwegian Personal Shareholders is currently 31.68%; i.e. capital gains (less the tax free allowance) and losses shall be multiplied by 1.44 which are then included in or deducted from the Norwegian Personal Shareholder's ordinary income in the year of disposal. Ordinary income is taxable at a flat rate of 22%, increasing the effective tax rate on gains/losses realized by Norwegian Personal Shareholders to 31.68%.

The gain is subject to tax and the loss is tax deductible irrespective of the duration of the ownership and the number of shares disposed of.

The taxable gain/deductible loss is calculated per share as the difference between the consideration for the share and the Norwegian Personal Shareholder's cost price of the share, including costs incurred in relation to the acquisition or realization of the share. From this capital gain, Norwegian Personal Shareholders are entitled to deduct a calculated allowance provided that such allowance has not already been used to reduce taxable dividend income. Please refer to Section "Taxation of dividends – Norwegian Personal Shareholders" above for a description of the calculation of the allowance. The allowance may only be deducted in order to reduce a taxable gain, and cannot increase or produce a deductible loss, i.e. any unused allowance exceeding the capital gain upon the realization of a share will be annulled. Unused allowance may not be set off against gains from realization of other shares. If the Norwegian Personal Shareholder owns shares acquired at different points in time, the shares that were acquired first will be regarded as the first to be disposed of, on a first-in first-out basis.

Special rules apply for Norwegian Personal Shareholders that cease to be tax-resident in Norway.

Norwegian Corporate Shareholders

Norwegian Corporate Shareholders are exempt from tax on capital gains derived from the realization of shares qualifying for participation exemption, including shares in the Company. Losses upon the realization and costs incurred in connection with the purchase and realization of such shares are not deductible for tax purposes.

Special rules apply for Norwegian Corporate Shareholders that cease to be tax-resident in Norway.

Non-Norwegian Personal Shareholders

Gains from the sale or other disposal of shares by a Non-Norwegian Personal Shareholder will not be subject to taxation in Norway unless the Non-Norwegian Personal Shareholder holds the shares in connection with business activities carried out or managed from Norway. Please refer to Section "Taxation of dividends – Non-Norwegian Corporate Shareholders Capital gains derived by the sale or other realization of shares by Non-Norwegian Corporate Shareholders are not subject to taxation in Norway unless the shareholding is effectively connected to the conduct of trade or business in Norway.

Net wealth tax

Unlisted shares are valued at 75 per cent of the share's proportionate share of the total tax assets of the public limited liability Company, or the public limited Company on January 1st the year before the tax assessment year divided by par. Norwegian Corporate Shareholders are not subject to net wealth tax. Non-Norwegian (Personal and Corporate) Shareholders are generally not subject to Norwegian net wealth tax. Non-Norwegian Personal Shareholders can, however, be taxable if the shareholding is effectively connected to the conduct of trade or business in Norway.

VAT and transfer taxes

No VAT, stamp or similar duties are currently imposed in Norway on the transfer or issuance of shares.

Inheritance tax

A transfer of shares through inheritance or as a gift does not give rise to inheritance or gift tax in Norway.

3.1.10. Legislation, rights and obligations and public takeover bids

In line with the Public Limited Liability Companies Act, the Company has essentially the freedom of choice to decide which provisions shall apply to the shares within the framework of the Act. The Company's conditions that apply to the shares are in accordance with this framework and will be presented in the following. Beyond these conditions, there are no significant provisions that will apply to the shares.

The rights of the shares

The Company has one share class, where each share gives equal rights, including each share representing one vote at the General meeting, and gives equal rights when distributing dividends. There are no voting rights restrictions on the shares.

The new shares issued in the Issue confer rights in the Company, including the right to dividends, from the time of registration of the Issue in the Register of Business Enterprises. There are no provisions in the Company's Articles of Association that set stricter conditions for shareholders' voting rights than those that follow from the Public Limited Liability Companies Act. There are no provisions in the Company's Articles of Association that stipulate a skewed distribution of dividends. Dividends will thus be distributed with an equal amount per share in the Company.

Second-hand sales, etc.

The shares in the Company are freely negotiable without pre-emptive rights for existing shareholders. Transfer of shares presupposes that the acquirer agrees to the Shareholder Agreement in force for the Company at any given time.

It is not permitted to transfer allotted shares until the Issue has been paid in full, registered in the Register of Business Enterprises and the shares have been transferred to the investor's VPS account. It is emphasized that investors who invest in the Company should have a long-term time horizon.

Compulsory acquisition

In line with the Norwegian Public Limited Liability Companies Act and the Norwegian Securities Trading Act, a shareholder who, directly or through subsidiaries, acquires shares representing 90% or more of the total number of issued shares in a Norwegian public limited liability company, as well as 90% or more of the total voting rights, has a right, and each remaining minority shareholder of the company has a right to require such majority shareholder, to effect a compulsory acquisition for cash of the shares not already owned by such majority shareholder. The majority shareholder becomes the owner of the remaining shares with immediate effect through such compulsory acquisition.

A majority shareholder who effects a compulsory acquisition is required to offer the minority shareholders a specific price per share, the determination of which is at the discretion of the majority shareholder.

If the minority shareholder does not accept the offered price, the minority shareholder may, within a specified deadline of no less than two months, request that the price be set by a Norwegian court. The cost of such court procedure will, as a general rule, be the responsibility of the majority shareholder, and the relevant court will have full discretion in determining the consideration to be paid to the minority shareholder as a result of the compulsory acquisition.

If the minority shareholders do not make such a request, the minority shareholders would be deemed to have accepted the offered price after the expiry of the specified deadline.

Distributions

Capital gains and distributions that accrue to the Company and that are not reinvested will be subject to ongoing distributions to the Company's shareholders to the extent that it is available in accordance with the legislation in force at any given time and considering the Company's general liquidity management. Dividends are distributed based on the previous year's results and are adopted by a simple majority at the general meeting(s) of the following year, see the Norwegian Public Limited Liability Companies Act §§ 8-1, 8-2, 8-2a and 8-3.

Options, convertible or exchangeable securities, etc.

As of the Prospectus Date, the Company has not issued options for subscription or purchase of the Company's shares, with the exception of the subscription rights that are included in the Company's share option program. The Company has issued 4,000,000 independent subscription rights in accordance with the Norwegian Companies Act § 11-12. 4. The purpose of these rights are for the Company's incentive program. The subscription rights are free of charge. Each subscription right shall entitle to one new share. Exercise of all subscription rights will entail in a maximum capital increase of NOK 4,000,000. The remuneration for shares issued in accordance with the subscription rights shall be NOK 1 per share. If dispositions are made that affect the Company's shares, share capital or equity in a negative way for participants in the program, the board is free to adjust the remuneration accordingly. In the case of reverse stock split, the board is free to adjust the remuneration upwards accordingly.

The subscription rights cannot be exercised before 01.07.2021. The deadline for claiming the issued shares is 31.05.2023. The subscription rights can be exercised in the period 01.07.2021-31.05.2023 when a share issue is carried out in the Company or by sale of shares. In both cases where the shares issued or sold are priced at NOK 4 or more. There are further conditions for exercising the subscription rights that i) the total issue amount is MNOK 10 or more and ii) the issue has been subscribed / paid in or the share sale has been completed by 30.04.2023.
